Through an expansion of consciousness the higher
Aspects of mind find expression through various Avenues which speak the true voice of the inner self:
The clarity with which ideas flourish clearing the way
For genuine growth to occur, what springs from the Union of mind and spirit stirs the imagination from
Its comfortable slumber to shape the malleable
Substance of the mind's eye, sculpting the impossible
Dream from visual patterns arising from a labyrinth
Of branching pathways inside the mind's luminous halls.
The seed to sprout from the labors of imagination
Encapsulating the experiences of the awakened mind:
The extent to which thought shapes the broader outlook
Reflected in the quality of material works which spring
Forth in a way similar to the buds of exquisite flowers.
